WILMINGTON BY-PASS

Planning board prefers the first proposal

There was a long discussion, Tuesday night, in the Planning Board meeting, about the proposed by-pass for Wilmington Square, and the proposal by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works that a new plan be adopted, putting the by-pass on the Burlington side of the square.

The ultimate decision was No. No changes needed, thank you. The Planning Board will write a letter to the Selectmen, for next meeting's signature, saying that it feels the by-pass should go as planned by Professor Charles Eliot, and Rep. Fred Cain, in-so-far as is possible.

The plan advocated by those two men would have the Route 129 By-Pass go between the Post Office and the Fire Station, as it crosses Church Street, and join the new building bridge over the Boston & Maine railroad, near rocco's Restaurant.

The southerly end of this proposed by-pass has not been definitely established, because of new construction, but the Board feels that this can be done.

As proposed the by-pass will pass behind the Cain Garage, on Main Street, and along a right-of-way that has already been surveyed, 100 feet wide, across Church St., Middlesex Ave., the Wildcat Railroad and Clark St., to the back of the Wilmington Plaza, and then across Main St.

The proposed, but not yet definitely established crossing point for Clark St. would be near Railroad Ave.

The Town Meeting of Wilmington, several years ago, appropriated $100,000 to purchase the right-of-way between Main Street and Church Street. Since then Rep. Fred Cain has obtained funds from other sources, so that Wilmington could put the money to other uses.

There is, as yet, no certain date of construction. The State DPW is waiting for the Wilmington Selectmen and Planning Board to make their decisions, after which there will have to be construction studies and ecological studies, before the final plans are made.

Construction of the new by-pass, if it does come, will be probably not within five years.

STATE POLICE LIEUTENANT

Tomorrow will mark the last day of Sgt. Charles Ellsworth, as a member of the Wilmington Police Department.

After a service of 19 years Ellsworth is leaving, to become a Lieutenant-Detective in the Massachusetts State Police, with the rank of Inspector. He is to report for duty Monday morning, at State Police headquarters in Boston.

Ellsworth is being posted to the State Police after a civil service examination, state wide.

Also being posted to the State Police is Sgt. James Hamilton of the Billerica Police.

Propose Anti Drinking By Laws

Two proposed By-Laws for the Town of Wilmington, having to do with drinking in public on the streets or parking lots of Wilmington have been submitted to the Board of Selectmen for their consideration.

One by-law was submitted by Selectman A. Daniel Gillis, Tuesday evening. Gillis described his proposed by-law as a copy of one in another town nearby. The other proposed by-law was submitted by the chairman, James F. Banda, who described his submission as work from several surrounding towns.

Both proposed by-laws will now be copied and given to all the Selectmen, for their study. They indicated, last Tuesday, that if they find something suitable they may submit it to the Town Meeting for a vote.

Mr. Gillis said that the Wilmington police were "asking for a tool to use" in combatting public drinking, and that was why he submitted his proposed by-law.

The selectmen in their discussion took cognizance of stories circulated around town that the police are powerless to do anything about the problem of public drinking in parking lots. The stories, they said, allege that the Selectmen have given the police orders not to interfere. This was not the case, the selectmen agreed among themselves. They do not seek to have harsh treatment on the young people, they agreed. At the same time they are not condoning violations of the law, and it is up to the police to see that the laws of the town and commonwealth are observed.

LATE FILED BILL

Cain Bill would provide bussing past road hazards

A "late filed bill" by Representative Fred F. Cain of Wilmington proposes to correct what are felt to be dangers and hazards to school children walking to school, in hazardous areas. The Bill is specially aimed at Kindergarten children, but could be applicable to other youngsters.

The bill is scheduled for an 11 am hearing next Monday, in Room 436 of the State House.

Cain filed the bill because there are numerous places in the Commonwealth where very young children, not eligible for school bus transportation, must walk along high speed roads, and along areas where there is construction.

Presently the state reimburses towns and cities for bussing children over 2 1/2 miles from neighborhood schools. There have been reports to the school committee of children being exposed to traffic hazards along Salem Street, in Wilmington and there have been reports to Mr. Cain of similar hazards in other communities. Cain's bill would reimburse the town or city involved for bussing in distances of less than 1 1/2 miles, if there is a traffic hazard involved, or if the road is otherwise dangerous.

As submitted, House Bill No. 7660 would have the State Department of Public Works be an agency to determine whether or not a particular area or intersection was hazardous to school children. Mr. Cain has said that it is probable that the DPW is not the only agency capable of making a determination of public safety, but he felt that it would have to be some other state or town agency, other than a school committee.

ASSEMBLE THE FACTS - THEN YOU GET THE LICENSE

A couple of months ago Nova Devices, of Woburn Street had some difficulty in getting a license to use hydrogen gas, when a number of Wilmington residents objected.

The firm went back and did some solid engineering, to prove their case, and had an open house a week ago, to exhibit the care with which the processes would be operated. Very few of the objectors were at the open house.

Tuesday night there was a presentation to the Wilmington Selectmen. Not only were there Nova Devices officials, but consultants from firms involved, and two others, Sami Attallah of the firm of Arthur D. Little, Inc. and Dr. John Silvers of North Wilmington, of the Mass. Science and Technology Foundation.

Silvers is shown speaking. He wholly approved, as a scientist and as a resident of Wilmington, and told the selectmen that he was appearing in a volunteer capacity.

He is only 33rd!

Robert Palmer is the Superintendent of Streets, in Wilmington. Last week a story appeared on the front page of the Town Crier, listing the new salaries of the Police Chief and Fire Chief, and comparing them with other high ranking officials in Wilmington, salary-wise.

Bob Palmer came out in tenth place. Bob Palmer says he wishes it were true. Actually he is in 33rd place.

Positions number 10 through 32 are occupied by school teachers of Wilmington, all of whom carry home at least $300 a week and some of whom are pretty close to $400.

Palmer - ? He just lugs home a measly $299!

Alta Maloney to address Spotlighters

Alta Maloney, entertainment editor for the Boston Herald American will address the Wilmington Spotlighters at their next regular meeting, Monday evening, October 29th, 7:30, American Legion Hall.

Miss Maloney has behind her some 30 years as a film, drama, opera and dance critic. Her lecture promises to be as witty and entertaining as her writing. She will address the group promptly at 7:45 and a short business meeting will follow.

Spotlighter meetings are open to the public and everyone is cordially invited to attend Miss Maloney's lecture.

The Social event of the year, a dinner, theater, dance, Sat. November 10th at the Casa di Fior is already a sell-out. Ticker Chairman, Ann Whitney says tickets are all sold. She will, however, continue to take tentative reservations in the event any tickets are returned at the October 29th meeting. She may be reached at 658-3440.

Carol Cooke and Bill Silvestri will star in Act III of Neil Simon's popular Broadway show, "Plaza Suite." As Norma and Roy Hubley, Carol and Bill seem to be constantly at each other's throats (see picture). Ten minutes before her big wedding, they are trying to coax daughter, Mimsey, out of a locked bathroom. Who's to blame for Mimsey's irrational behavior? Mom? or Dad? We'll never tell. Come see for yourself, Nov. 10th at the Casa Di Fior.

President's report from the Wilmington Regional Hospital

The past year has been an exceptionally busy one for the trustees of the Wilmington Regional Hospital Association, Inc. Weekly meetings with hospital consultants and visits to existing hospitals and clinics consumed many business hours of the board members, but they have not been in vain. At the present time we have contracted with consultants for a feasibility survey of a medical building and an adjoining ambulatory care center or clinic. We were fortunate to have fifteen doctors, all specialists in the various fields of medicine, willing to lease suites in the building, and to provide services, around the clock, to all patients in the clinic.

With the kind of co-operation of the publisher of the Town Crier we will report our progress weekly. Our total contributions and interest to date in both checking and savings accounts totals $59,571.19. Included in the total is proceeds this year from the second annual Hospital Dance Recital by the Jeanne Everett School of Dancing for which we extend our thanks for her generosity and to her classes for their fine presentation.

Contributions to the Hospital Fund instead of sending Christmas Cards helped again to build up the fund. This was the second year and it showed a sizeable increase. We are greatly indebted to Edward Shelly for his most generous donation of the contribution cards and to Fred Arsenault of Dell Drive for keeping us supplied with the envelopes - a tremendous savings.

Since the inception of the fund, the secretary has received, as of January 1973, 5510 contributions and acknowledged same.

Also, included in the total are donations from the V.F.W. derived from a special bazaar; the Wilmington Women's Club - monthly food sale; the combined men's organizations under the leadership of Ralph Allen for a carnival; Mrs. Joe O'Neill and her gals for our first auction; Ray York and Ray McNamara, chairmen and their fine committees for the Harvest Festival and Auction, not to overlook the very thoughtful contributions from several small groups of youngsters resulting from back yard sales or plays. All of which proves that everyone realizes we need a hospital or some type of medical care in Wilmington and are all willing to help.

In closing, I wish to say that our many, many years of working and planning is now becoming a reality for which I extend my heartfelt gratitude to the folks in Wilmington and the surrounding town for their contributions, and to our board, which includes:

Ray McNamara, Ray York, Joseph Maffeo, Fred Cain, Roger Beaupre, Attorney James Banda, Bernard Brady, Dr. Robert Mobbs, Attorney Joseph Courtney, Chief Paul Lynch and Lillian Woodside.

Trusting we will all continue to work for our goal - Thanksgiving Day, 1974, I remain,
Will Regional Hospital, Inc.
A. Melville Woodside, Pres.

Commenting on the gloominess and doldrums which frequently occur in November, Lee Hunt once observed: "A love of nature is the refuge. He who grapples with March and has the smiling eyes of June and August upon him need have no fear of November."

Riboflavin is necessary for growth and respiration of cells. You need it to help your cells live and keep them functioning.

The average daily human requirements for riboflavin are generally about two milligrams. Although not many become deficient in riboflavin alone, many people suffer deficiencies in a combination of B vitamins.

How much vitamin B have you had today?

For all your vitamin needs speak to the experts at Silver Lake Pharmacy, 52 Main St., Wilmington. HOME OWNERS CORNER by Roger

The kinds of workshop you have depends largely on the kinds of work you do; you may have one power tool or several.

There are, however, some things that every workshop needs.

First of all, a workbench is important. If you choose to make your own, so much the better.

A stationary workbench is usually better for all kinds of work. It gives a sturdier base. Three feet is generally considered the most convenient depth for a workbench.

CHILDREN'S MOVIES AT WILMINGTON LIBRARY

Four films for children from the third grade up will be shown in the Conference Room at the Wilmington Memorial Library on Monday afternoon, October 29th from 3:30 to 4:30.

The movies are in color and average 12 minutes each. They are new additions to the film collection of the Eastern Regional Library System and are being shown in Wilmington for the first time.

The Legend of Sleepy Hollow: This classic American tale by Washington Irving is humorous, exciting and just right for the Halloween season.

Anansi the Spider: A brilliantly animated folktale of Africa about a clever spider hero.

The Babysitter: The amusing adventures of a chick who tries to outwit his babysitter.

A Little Girl and a Gunny Wolf: A version of the Little Red Riding Hood story charmingly told and illustrated by school children in California.

WOODSIDES CELEBRATE BELATED 35TH

Last Sunday afternoon, Martha and Ernie Woodside of Aldrich Rd., Wilmington were probably the most surprised couple in Wilmington. Accepting an invitation to a birthday party for Mel Woodside on Roberts Rd., they arrived to find 83 friends and relatives waiting to wish them a belated happy 35th wedding anniversary.

Over the years, Martha and Ernie Woodside have spent more than their share of time in hospitals and were frequently separated on their anniversary. Relatives and friends were eager to make this a day that would make up for all the others - and they did.

Mrs. Rith Kitchener, a neighbor for 35 years made a beautiful three tiered wedding cake, decorated with tiny fresh rose buds.

Relatives and friends were on hand from all over New England and the Woodside's received many lovely gifts and a traveling bag full of money. They are planning a long awaited trip to Bermuda.

It was Harrison Allen

The editor of the Town Crier missed the historical meeting, last Thursday, in which pictures of the interior of the Harnden Tavern were to be shown, in the Public Library of Wilmington. The history of the tavern, it is said, was discussed.

One question was raised, in a private conversation, which has come back to the editor. That question was to the effect of: How do we know the editor is right, when he tells the old stories of Wilmington?

It is a good question. Every time that another story appears in the pages of the Town Crier there are telephone calls, sometimes letters, with more information, and sometimes with corrections. Each story generates more information on the subject material, sometimes from surprising places.

In the story of Horace Sheldon, Drover, the Town Crier did make an error, and no one, not even relatives of the Sheldon family noticed it. It wasn't until the editor consulted Miss Swain's Note Book (compiled by Mary Swain, of the Swain Sisters) that he noticed the error.

The editor was after a picture of H. Allen Sheldon, which he recalled having been printed in Miss Swain's notebook. And, not only did he find the picture (as expected) but also the new fact that H. Allen had changed his name, at the time he got married.

He was born Allen Harrison Sheldon on January 18, 1830, in the farmhouse that Wilmington people will recall as being the Herb Barrows farm, the farmhouse which was destroyed by arson, on what is now Avco property. His father, of course, was the Asa G. Sheldon, the man who changed the skyline of Boston, and filled in what is still called Back Bay.

The farmhouse which became the Barrows farm back about 1897 was for many years known as the Perry Farm, and the corner of Woburn Street and Lowell Street was Perry's Corner, because of the blacksmith shop there, established by Asa and run for two generations by the Perry family.

Asa G. apparently sold to John W. Perry when he moved the blacksmith shop to Wilmington, and at the same time bought what is today called the Asa G. Sheldon home, at 604 Woburn Street.

Allen married, in 1853, Catherine, the daughter of the Jonathan Buck who had built the home where Atty. and Mrs. Callan now live on Woburn Street. From 1859 to 1869 they lived in Woburn, where he was foreman of the John Cummings farm, in West Woburn. They returned to Wilmington after the death of Asa G., and took up farming in the old house at 604 Woburn Street.

H. Allen Sheldon, in addition to being the man who slaughtered cattle with a Sharps Rifle, was a cattle drover in his younger days. It is on record that each summer he would get up a herd of cattle and calves, and with the aid of a couple of other young men (boys, really) would drive those cattle to Washington, N.H. for a summer time of green New Hampshire grass. Then, in the fall, the boys would go up to Washington (a town in western New Hampshire) and return with the cattle.

The point of all this is that H. Allen Sheldon, born Allen Harrison, changed his name when he was married, and the word Harrison was rarely heard, from then on. When the writer was a boy he learned, or assumed, that the first name was Henry. No one ever corrected him. For over fifty years H. Allen has been Henry to the writer, and when relatives of the Sheldon family discussed the family, during the past week, no one picked up the error.

And thus are errors made - and corrected.

Let it be recorded that in the days before the Spanish American War, H. Allen Sheldon was a one-man Chamber of Commerce, or something like that, in Wilmington. He was a fervent booster of his home town. He founded the Farmers and

Asa G. Sheldon
He who wrote his auto-biography, and called it "Wilmington Farmer".

H. Allen Sheldon
He killed cattle with a Sharps Rifle, and was better known as Deacon Sheldon.

Myrton Sheldon
71 years young, and a resident of Reading. The grandson of Horace Sheldon.

THREE GENERATIONS OF SHELDON MEN

Mechanics Club, in 1875, and twenty years later was again serving as president. There would be an annual Cattle Show in Wilmington, sponsored by the Farmers and Mechanics Club, and sometimes even the Governor of the Commonwealth would be present at the annual dinner which followed.

H. Allen was proud of the fact that Wilmington was served by three railroads, and had a total of seven sidetracks; that there was a variety of soils, to attract the intelligent farmer, and that Wilmington had a lot of debt ratio, which meant low taxes, of which he was always boasting.

A word about what your editor calls the Butcher Wheel. Clayton Buck of Woburn St., says that the old farmers of Wilmington just called a wheel a "windlass."

But to get back to his brother, Horace.

Two of the grandsons of Horace live in Reading today - Harrison, better known as Harry, and Myrton. Both have been Drovers in Wilmington. They are two of the few living persons who could be called Drovers, of Wilmington, today.

When Myrton was still a teenager he worked for Carl Pettingill as a Drover. The Pettingill farm was where Lucci's Market is today.

He and a young man named

Johnny Stokes, who lived in the farmhouse that is now 203 Aldrich Road, used to be in the Pettingill farm at about sun-up. Mrs. Pettingill would cook breakfast, and then about 6 am they would start with cattle, to be driven to the Brighton abattoir.

Thus does history reverse itself. Horace drove cattle, singled handed, from Brighton to Wilmington. His grandson drove cattle from Wilmington to Brighton.

Myrton and Stokes (sometimes it was Carl Pettingill) used a low swung wagon. The beef cows were put on the wagon, and the rest chained behind, for a total of six to eight.

It would be Myrton's job to walk behind, and prod the cattle into moving along. It took five or six hours, generally, to get to Brighton, and at the abattoir they would have a noon day meal of beans and franks, in an upstairs restaurant at the Arboretum.

On occasion the boys would meet Charles H. Buck at the abattoir. Mr. Buck liked to eat upstairs in that restaurant.

Myrton remembers Charles H. Buck as a man who always sold good meat, and who frequently was out until 10 pm selling. He would sell in Woburn and East Woburn. At other times he would sell in Reading, and got home earlier.

Myrton worked for Herb Barrows for seventeen years, and his brother Harrison much longer. Harrison, better known as Harry, started working for Herb during World War I, and was still there when Herb died, over a dozen years ago. Harry will be remembered by many Wilmington old-timers. Always rode a bicycle back and forth to work.

Another old timer who was a cattle drover many years ago is Stanley Webber, recently retired as Executive Secretary of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce.

Like Myrton Sheldon, Stanley drove cattle from Wilmington to Brighton abattoir, many years ago. He feels that he is Wilmington's sole surviving Cattle Drover.

About where the Muffin House is, on Main Street in Wilmington was Asa Sheldon's home. Not Asa G., but his grandson Asa. Asa was a butcher, he was a cattle dealer, and for a while he was the superintendent of a poor-farm, down Saugus way, just which town the writer is not certain.

Asa Sheldon, before World War I, would go to New Hampshire and Vermont, and buy cattle which would be shipped to Wilmington by train, and unloaded in the yard opposite Clark Street.

Evidently there was some regulation, railroad, city or otherwise, which prevented the cattle from being shipped directly to Brighton.

Two high school boys were hired to drive those cattle to Brighton, Stanley Webber and Asa's son, Wilbur Sheldon. Wilbur was the Wilmington fireman who was killed while fighting a fire up at Silver Lake about fifty years ago.

It must have been quite a trip. They didn't use the wagon technique of Carl Pettingill, instead they just drove the cattle, with prods, and with stones which the two boys carried in their pockets. One boy on each side of the herd, somewhat to the back, and if a cow or bull started to turn into some street or sideyard the way to get it back in line was to throw stones at it.

On one occasion the herd was so big that Asa hired a man and a dog to go along with the boys. The dog was a wonder - used to jump fences and race ahead, to cut off cattle that were tending to wander from the allotted route.

Your editor heard of Stanley's fun of it asked Stanley if he ever made the trips barefooted. It would have been a nice touch, to

HOW DADS CAN HELP AT SCOUT MEETINGS

THREE DADS, WHO WERE: Just trying to help out, learned a lot about Boy Scouts last Friday evening. It was all the idea of Scout Gary Gable. He asked for three men to volunteer, in a skit, at a Troop 63 meeting in Villanova Hall in Wilmington.

The three men, Bill Gable of Marcia Road, Wilmington, Jack Clarke of 63 Fiske Street, Tewksbury, and Art Keefe of Burlington Ave., Wilmington found themselves on the floor, on their hands and knees. They were the boys, in a bar-room skit to be played by the Scouts.

The "Bar Tender" poured each Scout a glass of water. Suddenly they remembered that they had to go home, and put their glasses on the "bar" and left. The three dads were left, each with a glass of water on his back, and no way to get it off.

Gary Gable is shown explaining to the dads that he is powerless to help them. He didn't put the water there.

fun of it asked Stanley if he ever made the trips barefooted. It would have been a nice touch, to the story. No. He wore shoes. But his feet were mighty tired, at the end of one of those trips.

CAPT. THEODORE RICHARDS
COMPLETES COURSE

Army Reserve Captain Theodore R. Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer S. Richards of 274 Middlesex Ave., Wilmington, completed the final phase of the command and general staff officer course at the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College, Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas.

The course is organized into nine phases and given over a five-year period either by correspondence or through the U.S. Army Reserve school system. The final two week phase is conducted at Ft. Leavenworth.

The training is designed to prepare selected officers for responsible positions at division and support command levels. It also provides them with an understanding of the duties of the corps and field Army general staff officers, and of Army participation in joint and combined operations.

Capt. Richards who resides at 19058 Mills Choice Road, Gaithersburg, Md., is attending Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington, D.C.

Bacon-Lundquist Nuptial

Jamesway Studio

On Saturday, September 9th, Pamela Louise Bacon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard R. Bacon of 114 Andover St., Wilmington became the bride of Robert Elwyn Lundquist Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lundquist Sr. of 77 Thornton Road, Needham.

The Rev. Willis P. Miller performed the two o'clock ceremony at the Wilmington United Methodist Church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a victorian styled A-line gown of silk organza trimmed with chantilly lace. The Bertha collar and chapel length train were also of chantilly lace and her mantilla veil was held in place by a camelot cap.

Linda Place, a close friend of the bride served as maid of honor in a gold gown of polyester sheer organza over taffeta featuring an empire waist trimmed with matching ribbon. The high neck was trimmed with peau d'anjie lace as were the bib, camelot sleeves and deep cuffs. Her gown had a full gathered skirt ruffled at the bottom in a two-tiered effect with each tier edged in matching lace. Her camelot cap held a four tier veil.

Elaine Varcoe of Cohoes, New York, cousin of the bride, Elizabeth A. Kuecken of Pittsford, New York and Judith A. Johnson of Woburn, both close friends of the bride served as bridesmaids. They wore matching gowns of rust, styled identical to that worn by the maid of honor.

Heidi Wiberg of Wilmington acted as flower girl.

Leslie Brown of Needham, a close friend of the groom served as best man while ushering duties were in charge of John Silesky of Westwood, Ronald Molter, of Needham, friends of the groom and Wesley Bacon of Wilmington, brother of the bride.

David Mullaly of Westwood, a nephew of the groom served as ring bearer.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Andover Country Club where Wendy Wiberg circulated the guest book.

Following a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Virginia and to Waterville, Maine, the couple is now residing at 123 Cambridge Road in Woburn.

The new Mrs. Lundquist is a 1971 graduate of Wilmington High School and attended Northern Essex Community College.

The groom is a 1968 graduate of Needham High School. He attended Franklin Institute in Boston, Coyne Electrical in Boston and is currently employed as an electrician for Damon Corp. of Needham.

FINCOM DISCUSSES
1974 BUDGETS

The Tewksbury finance committee has begun discussions on new budgets for town departments during the town's 1975 fiscal year, which will begin July 1, 1974.

Department heads will have guidelines for budgets in two to three weeks, fincom members decided. Among the guidelines will be estimates of cost of living increases and other factors which will have a bearing on the town's overall expenditures.

In other action, the committee tabled a $3,600 request for transfer to buy a new police patrol car to replace one recently totallied in a collision. Police Chief John F. Sullivan was asked to go out for bid for the vehicle and turn the bids over to the fincom before a transfer will be approved.

Acme Cabinet has an open house

JACK AND BUD HURWITZ: And friends. At the open house of the Acme Cabinet company, on Industrial Way, Wilmington, last weekend. At left is James F. Banda, chairman of the Board of Selectmen of Wilmington, and at right the Town Manager, Sterling Morris.

Acme Cabinet of New England, Inc. is one of the newest firms in Wilmington, so new in fact that the firm just barely got the carpet in place before they had an Open House. Three days were devoted to the open house, so as not to crowd the offices and showrooms with too many friends at one time.

The firm is located on Industrial Way, in Wilmington, and it may be said to be the work of Jack Hurwitz and his son Bud. Jack is now the Chairman of the Board, and Bud is the President. Jack started the business back 19 years ago, in Dracut, and he went from Dracut to Lawrence, to Lowell, and finally to Wilmington. On the way they picked up some aid, in the form of their principal supplier, down in New Jersey.

Acme cabinet is a Toms River, N.J. firm, in which, five years ago, the founder died, and the sons were not interested in carrying on the business. Jack Hurwitz saw an opportunity, and bought the firm. He changed the name of his own firm to conform, from Jackson Cabinet to Acme Cabinet of N.E. Inc. Evidently the firm has made money.

The new facility on Industrial Way is both a New England regional headquarters and a warehouse. There are 37 employees in the building, salesmen and technicians. No retail sales are made from the New England Headquarters, all sales being assigned salesmen who have their own districts.

The firm recieved a warm welcome.

The history of the development of the automobile is much longer than most people suspect. It begins as far back as the early part of the 17th century. It was then that man first began to realize the importance of adequate, efficient transportation.

Early attempts at building automobiles were usually unsuccessful. People regarded the creations as toys.

Sir Isaac Newton, in 1680, for example, invented a machine which moved on steam: it was propelled by the back pressure of a jet of steam which was directed to the rear of the car. No one took it seriously, but this was the earliest known predecessor of the automobile as we know it today.

For the latest in automobiles, visit Wilmington Ford, 275 Main St., Rte. 38, Wilmington, 658-6800, well known for integrity and reliability. Varsity soccer closes in on championship

This afternoon the varsity soccer eleven squares off against Andover in a key Northern League encounter. Coach Lentine's club is closing in on their second league title in two years and a victory over the second place Golden Warriors would give the Wildcats some breathing room. The regular season closes next Tuesday afternoon with the varsity hosting tough Billerica, while Andover is at home against Peabody.

Thurs. Oct. 18: The varsity booters extended their unbeaten skid to eleven with late surge 4-1 win over Methuen. Captain Barry Aruda provided all the scoring punch with four markers to bring his seasonal total to 16. The Wildcats maintained a wide 18-8 shot on net advantage, but had to come on with a strong second half thrust to post their tenth league win.

Tue. Oct. 23: Left winger Chris DiCecca broke open a scoreless game with his seventh seasonal goal on a penalty kick late in the third stanza and the Wildcats went on to shutout Peabody, 2-0. The varsity maintained constant pressure on the Tanners goalie, but were stopped until the penalty shot.

The final margin of victory was provided by DiCecca's second goal of the game early in the last stanza as the hustling winger converted a Dave Maloney pass by the Tanners goalie. Chuck Wood was called upon to make only five saves, while gaining his eighth shutout of the year.

MacInnis leads harriers in romp

Wed. Oct. 17: Junior Ian MacInnis beat teammate Doug Spring by nine seconds while gaining his initial varsity cross country victory in leading the Wildcats to a convincing, 18-43 triumph over hapless Dracut.

IAN MACINNIS: Crosses the finish line with his initial varsity victory in the Wildcats triumph over Dracut.

The jayvees had their win streak halted as the Middies JV's posted an easy 18-43 win. This was the initial defeat for the junior varsity squad in a dual meet in three seasons.

Brian Callahan finished fourth with a time of 9:17, while other Wildcats in the top twelve included: Mickey Grant (6th, 9:28); John McNaughton (10th, 9:38); Tom Bromander (11th, 9:51) and Mike Tyner (12th, 9:58).

In a freshmen encounter the younger Wildcats edged the Middies, 26-29 with Myron MacInnis and Gary Balestrieri crossing the tape in the onw, two spots. Barry Phillips (4th), Chris Burke (9th) and Jackson Humphrey (10th) were other frosh to finish in the top ten to provide the Wildcats with their margin of victory.

JV's salvage tie

Mon. Oct. 22: The locals notched a touchdown with 19 seconds left in the game to pull out an 8-8 tie with the Middies. Joe Russo snatched a 17 yard Jim Stewart aerial, broke a tackle, and plunged in for the score. Jack Moran grabbed a deflected pass for the two point conversion. The score capped a 67 yard Wildcat drive.

The two contestants battled to a 0-0 tie at the end of the third quarter, fighting most of the encounter between the 25 yard lines. Dracut had the best opportunity to score in the first three stanzas, as they marched to the Wilmington three yard line. Richie Russo stopped the drive by picking off a pass in the end zone.

With four minutes left in the game, Bob Woods booted a punt 39 yards to the Dracut 31, and Jim Moore returned the pigskin 69 yards for the Middies score. The conversion pass was good, Dracut led, Wilmington took over the ball, and the rest is history.

The Wildcats slate is now 1-2-1, and Coach Alyward's squad will host Austin Prep at WHS Field next Monday.

Sferrazza paces Frosh

Oct. 19th: Runningback Bob Sferrazza finally started running up to par as he notched a pair of 12-0 victories over Dracut. Bob lugged the ball ten times for 74 yards.

The teams moved the ball up and down the field, but neither could score during the first quarter. Sferrazza notched his first six-pointed early in the second stanza scampering 23 yards for the score. The touchdown capped a 57 yard Wildcat drive. Dracut took over at the Wildcats 19 on a poor Wilmington punt, but four consecutive incomplete passes nullified the Middies threat.

Middies sink WHS eleven

Sat. Oct. 20: Unable to take advantage of early breaks the varsity football eleven succumbed to a strong Dracut running attack in the second half and came home with a 7-0 defeat. The Wildcats (3-20) always have trouble in Dracut and this season was no exception as Coach Bellissimo's squad dominated the stats in the opening half, but could not score.

The first period was a punting dual between the Wildcats Doug Stewart and Brian Sullivan of Dracut with each club stopping the other on five different occasions. The Wildcats had the better of the field positions, moving to the Middies 29 late in the period before a fourth down pass attempt failed.

In the opening minutes of the second stanza the varsity set-up at the Dracut 13 following a poor Sullivan punt. With Ray Noel and Carl Butler doing the bulk of the ball carrying the Wildcats moved to the two yard line. On a first and goal a poor exchange between center Dana Daniell and Butler resulted in a fumble, which Butler recovered. Noel moved the ball to the one with a plunge over right tackle. However, the next play was typical of what was in store the rest of the afternoon, as Noel fumbled at the goal line on the third down play and the Middies recovered.

Dracut was unable to move the ball for a first down and the Wildcats came right back at the Middies 30. Butler's aerial attempt to Tom Woods was picked off by the Middies at the 15. Dracut moved out to the 35, their best field position of the half, where they had to turn the ball over on a punt for the fifth time of the half. The Wildcats proceeded to put together a 12 play march which ended on the Middies 32 as the half ended, a 17 yard scoring play, Butler to Woods was nullified on an offensive holding penalty to highlight the drive.

The Wildcats took the second half kick off at their 35 and moved to the Middies 35 in nine plays before a stubborn Dracut defense halted Paul Fitch's sweep on a third and two from the 34. The Middies proceeded to take over at their own 20 following Stewart's punt into the end zone and marched to the Wildcats 13 in seventeen plays.

Keeping the ball on the ground Coach Murphy's eleven ran over the Wildcats for five first downs while eating up some seven minutes on the clock. The drive stalled at the 13 as the Wildcats defense stiffened and held on a fourth and less than a yard for a first down. However, the offense turned the ball right back three plays later when an attempted Butler to Stewart aerial was picked off at the Wilmington 39 by Jean Dufour.

Dracut could not move the ball this time and had to punt out. The Wildcats took over at their 12 following Sullivan's short kick of 24 yards. Destiny was on Dracut's side as a Butler to Woods pass was picked off at the 45 by Jim Spanos.

Setting up at the Wildcats 16 following Spanos's return of 29 yards, it took Dracut only two plays to score the winning td. On a second and nine the Middies quarterback hit runningback Bob Worthington with a short aerial on the right side and the Middies junior back made no mistake as he ran past two Wildcat defenders into the end zone.

In retrospect it was a case of too many mistakes in key situations which led to this defeat. Tri-captain Dean Devlin did not carry the ball once in the contest and this was a change worthy of note as the senior running back had done the bulk of the running in the four previous contests.

Steve Woods led the winners with seven td's, while Bobby Marsi chipped in with the other six-pointers. Jim Nally and Jim Litwinski tallied a pair of td's each to pace the Cowboys scoring attack. The Vikings extended their winning streak to two with a convincing 21-7 triumph over Tom Beaton's Patriots Tuesday evening at Rotary. Timmy Cadigan tossed touchdown scoring passes to Jamie Shepard and John Sanborn, while Brian McGrath scampered 35 yards with the other Viking tally, to provide the league leaders with their margin of victory. Woburn St. scored their lone td on the final play of the contest as Chris Nolan hooked up with his brother Scott on 20 yard pass and run play. REDMEN SCALPINGS

Methuen crushes Redmen

The Tewksbury High School football team took another step downward as the Methuen Rangers crushed the Redmen 34-0 at Methuen last Saturday.

It was all Methuen as the Redmen were shutout for the third time this season. In the three shutouts the opposition has put 62 points on the board.

Methuen improved their record to 2-3 while the Redmen lost their third straight game to drop their record to 1-4.

The Methuen backs, Lee Holden and Keith Alexas controlled the game. The two speedsters tore through gaping holes in the Redmen line all afternoon.

The first Methuen score came after a short punt by Tewksbury's Brian Smith, with the ball on Tewksbury's 37 Brian Nicholson lugged the ball to the Redmen 27. On the next play senior back Lee Holden swept right and broke a series of weak Tewksbury tackles for the score. The conversion try was short and Methuen led 6-0.

Tewksbury's offense just couldn't move at all in the first half. The Redmen didn't manage to pick up a first down until midway through the second period.

When the Redmen failed to move on the series following Methuen's first score they were forced to punt. Methuen then put the often used reverse play in on the punt as Keith Alexas handed off to Jeff Petrillo who sprinted down the right sideline for 40 yards and another Methuen score. The point after was true and Methuen led 13-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Methuen mounted an excellent drive to produce their third score in the second period. Alexas banged over from the three and the Rangers were now making a joke of the game as they led 19-0 at half-time.

The second half was a mere formality as Methuen produced separate scores in the third and fourth quarters. Holden scored again from 113 yards out with quarterback Fred Simms running for the two point conversion. In the fourth quarter Holden scored from seven yards out to close out the humiliation.

Next week the Redmen take on powerful Andover at Andover High School.

COUGAR CORNER

The Austin Cougar gridsters dropped their third straight game by a 14-6 score to the Chelmsford High School Lions last Saturday.

The encounter, a rough, physical affair found both teams "sky high" and hitting hard.

Austin was first to put points on the board in the opening period. After Ted Nawn of Tewksbury recovered a Lion fumble on the Cougar 23, Chuck Gaudet directed a steady ground and air game to pay dirt. Featured in the attack were passes to Steve Webster and a 21 yard scoring aerial to Ed Misk. The conversion points failed when a pass by Gaudet failed connections.

For the rest of the first period and throughout the entire second period Austin was held off by the exceptional fine punting of Guy Swiatkowski.

Early in the third period the Lions led by their quarterback, Jim Finnegan posted a sustained drive that netted 70 yards for their first td. The drive was climaxed when Blair Ely plunged over the goal line from one yard out. When the conversion kick went wide, Austin was detected to be offside. Andy Everleigh made his second attempt good and the home team was in the lead 7-6.

Both teams battled on even terms through the rest of the third and most of the fourth. Late in fourth period Chuck Gaudet fumbled deep in his own territory when collared from behind by a Chelmsford defender. However, Agati and company rose to the occasion by forcing the Lions to turn the ball over to the Cougars on downs.

Still deep in their own territory and with the clock running out, Austin found themselves forced to gamble. Gaudet threw two passes that failed to find their mark. His third pass was deflected by a Chelmsford lineman into the hands of Dave McDonald on the one yard line. This led promptly fell over the endzone for a td. Gary Swiatkowski added the 14th point when his kick split the uprights. Final score, Chelmsford 14 - Austin 6.

Wilm. Youth Hockey

A 4-0 cushion - Tewksbury scored their lone tally in the middle frame. Wilmington answered in the third back with a tally by John Fahey to wrap it up.

Bantam B (2-0-0)...Last Thursday the Bantam B's bombed North Reading 9-0. The line of Sullivan, Carlin, Gracia collected six goals with Gracia getting the "hat trick" scoring in each period. Other scorers were Sullivan (2), Moulton, Walden, Carlin and Blaisdell. Wilmington outshot North Reading 36-10.

In a Assabet Valley league encounter the B's shelled Belmont 9-0. This time Sullivan collected the "hat trick", two goals each by Blaisdell and Moulton. Singletons by Sheehan and Foley.

Bantam C (1-1-0)...On Oct. 11 the C's played their first game in the Interstate Hockey League by thrashing Tyngsboro-Dunstable 10-1. Last Thursday Wilmington lost a 7-6 thriller to Manchester, N.H. After a 2-2 second period, Manchester scored three goals for a 5-2 bulge. Wilmington came back with four goals of their own to lead 6-5. In the final three minutes Manchester came up with two scores for the win.

Distaffs dominate, blank Billerica

THE DRIVING FORCE: Captain Carlene Butler of the varsity field hockey squad.

Thu. Oct. 18: The varsity girls dominated Billerica, 4-0 to keep their slim conference title hopes alive. The distaffs controlled the play from the opening face-off as the defensive unit led by Gail Irwin and Mary Ann Langone allowed only one shot on goalie Carrie Arvanitis.

Junior forward Leslie Arnold scored the eventual game winner in the opening half of play with Captain Carlene Butler assisting. The goal was Leslie's fourth of the season. In the second half the varsity girls put the game out of reach scoring three times. Butler made it 2-0 in the opening minute of the half, scoring her second marker of the year, while high scoring Tammy Oliveira notched her sixth and seventh goals of the season later in the stanza to provide the final margin of victory.

Coach Cassidy's girls are now sporting an impressive 3-1-1 slate with only three games left, including yesterday's game at Tewksbury. The junior varsity game was called because of rain after 10 minutes of play with neither club scoring.

POP WARNER FOOTBALL

Chargers surprise Chelmsford

Sun. Oct. 21: The Chargers got back into the swing of things as they knocked Chelmsford from the unbeaten ranks, posting a 20-8 triumph over the Cougars.

Wilmington opened the scoring early in the second stanza taking a Cougar punt on their own 30, and marching the remaining 70 yards down field in 12 plays. Quarterback Mark Holloway capped the drive with a two yard keeper for a 6-0 Charger lead. Phil Russo bulldozed for the all important two point conversion.

The Chargers increased their lead in the third frame when Holloway fired a four yard scoring strike to Brian Tower. An incomplete pass on the conversion attempt left Coach Cleary's eleven with a 14-0 lead. In the last quarter George Ravagni recovered a fumble at the Chelmsford 37.

A 20 yard jaunt by Jim Bibeau brought the ball to the 17, and two plays later the offensive line opened a hole big enough for a truck to drive through, and co-captain Russo trotted for the final Charger score. Chelmsford notched their lone td in the waning moments of the contest to avert a shut-out.

The Chargers are now 4-2 on the season and they will entertain Newton this Sunday afternoon in a non-league encounter at the HS field. Both the "B" and "C" squads lost to their counterparts from Chelmsford in the preliminary contests. REMEMBER THE HILL??

RONALD L. MAGGIO: Son of Ralph Maggio of 18 Robinson Ave., Tewksbury has recently graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Illinois.

PLANNERS APPOINT
NMAC REPRESENTATIVE

Industrial development Cmsr. Allen DeForest, of 747 Chandler St., Tewksbury, has been appointed as the town planning board's representative on the Northern Middlesex Area Commissions (NMAC) overall economic development committee.

Chairman Edward A. Flanagan, in nominating DeForest, for the post, said the NMAC needs four more Tewksbury representatives to serve on other committees.

He said these include a committee studying housing, transportation, the environment, and human resources and services.

In other action, Flanagan and planner George B. Donovan suggested the board's ultimate weapon in insuring modern construction of subdivisions approved years ago but only now being built would be to rescind approval of them.

Both planners said, however, they didn't propose the board take such an action unless developers of such subdivisions refuse to discuss their plans with the board, or refused to act in accordance with board requirements.

FAIR TO BENEFIT
SULLIVAN CENTER

Parents of children attending the Ann Sullivan Center at Tewksbury State Hospital are sponsoring a fair to raise funds for equipment and supplies.

The center offers a pre-school program for handicapped and underprivileged children of Tewksbury, and has limited federal funding. Donations needed for the fair include white elephant items, books, toys, plants, Christmas decorations, and hand-made articles, baked goods etc.

Donations should be delivered to the center weekdays, or arrangements may be made by calling Diane McSweeney at 851-3556. The interfaith clergy fund has already donated $100.

OPERATION FRIENDSHIP

Applications for 1974 travel to Europe under the auspices of Operation Friendship are available at the office of Tewksbury Congregational Church.

Delegates between 15 and 25 years old and advisors more than 25 years old will participate. Twelve young persons and three older persons have already applied in Tewksbury.

CITIZENS FOR MODERN
LOCAL GOVT. MEET
IN TEWKSBURY

On Wednesday, October 24, at 8:00 pm the officers and members of the Citizens for Modern Local Government will meet at the home of John Gardner, chairman to reorganize committees for the forthcoming campaign to elect a new charter commission.

Representatives from the town's organizations are being contacted and are asked to be in attendance so that the planning will be coordinated town-wide.

The object of electing a new charter commission is to have a second group examine the defeated charter in the hope that revisions can be made to provide a more acceptable form to the voter.

The majority of the original charter was accepted by many voters, as demonstrated by the 47 per cent positive vote. However, a few controversial points cost the charter its adoption.

Organizations interested in being represented, and interested private citizens should contact Mr. Gardner at 851-7183.

LWV SEEKS FUNDS FOR ACTIVITIES

A finance drive for the League of Women Voters of Tewksbury has been scheduled until October 28 under the direction of Lucille Firreno, Pat Powers, and Jo Leitch.

The Tewksbury league sponsors the annual Candidates Night for the public. The cost of the auditorium, publications and refreshments are all borne by the league.

In addition to this annual service to the town, the league is anticipating publication of studies of local schools, recreation facilities and a new Know Your Town book.

These activities cannot be supported by the money paid in dues by the fifty members of the Tewksbury league, nor can they afford duplicating machines. These activities benefit all residents of Tewksbury and therefore the league does not hesitate to seek voluntary contributions.

NEIDE

My Life is Like an Ocean

My life is like an ocean
With tides a mile high
Then slowly dies the ocean
With pebbles in my eyes.

The sun has warmed my body
The nighttime calms my soul
And happiness I cry for
This is my basic goal

To stand amongst the others
And shout above the earth
That I have been born unto
This wonderful earth

Yet in my mind I know
That I will stay below
And then the tears fall by me
They come so very slow,
They come so very slow.

38% of Returns In Community Fund has $3800

Thirty eight percent of those who marched on September 30th for the Wilmington Community Fund have made their returns to the officials of the Wilmington Community Fund.

The result: Perhaps by coincidence - the Community Fund has so far received $3800.

The goal, of course, is a 100% return and a 100% accounting. If all of the over 600 who marched on September 30th make their returns the Community Fund should be, ipso facto, richer by $6000.

Nothing on School site

Two weeks ago, in the selectmen's meeting Selectman Danny Gillis wanted to discuss the site of the proposed high school, off Salem Street. There was a considerable to-do about it, in the selectmen's meeting. Gillis had seen slides showing the site, about which he thought the general public should know.

Gillis had his chance, Tuesday evening, or so it seemed. He did not bring up the subject.

Wilmington Library
Extensive collection for business and professional men

Many people in Wilmington do not realize that their Memorial Library has an extensive business and legal reference collection. A quiet corner has been created for Wilmington's businessmen, lawyers, and other professionals. The library carries the Wall Street Journal, Barron's Business Week, Fortune, Forbes, Nation's Business, the Harvard Business Review, Sales Management, or New England Economic Indicator.

The library has the telephone directories for most all of the Massachusetts cities and towns, and has various directories available. Dun and Bradstreet, Thomas Register of American Manufacturers, and the New England Directory of Manufacturers are available.

For those interested in growth stocks, blue chips, mutual funds, or some other form of investment, the library subscribes to Moody's Investments - Moody's Industrials, OTC Industrials, Transportation, Banking and Finance, and Public Utilities. It also has Moody's Weekly Bond and Stock Survey.

The Memorial Library can help with taxes. It has the Prentice Hall Federal Tax Guide, and the Massachusetts guide to state as well as local taxes.

For legal problems, or for researching the laws pertaining to education, ecology or the environment, the library has the Massachusetts General Laws Annotated, the U.S. Code Service, and receives the U.S. Supreme Court Reporter. Each is kept up to date.

In this quiet corner there are new books of interest to laymen: Consumerism, no-fault insurance, health insurance, mobile homes, air travel, crime and punishment, just to name a few subjects.

The library staff is waiting to be of assistance.

SHAWSHEEN SCHOOL Clogged filters close school

The Shawsheen School, at Hopkins Street and Shawsheen Avenue, Wilmington was closed down at 1:30 pm Tuesday because of water supply troubles. It re-opened on schedule again Wednesday.

Rust in the water mains seemed to be the trouble. Filters in the water mains coming from the street began to clog up, and then other services gave their share of troubles. By 1:30 pm when the school was closed there were toilets which were not functioning properly.

The water was described as being a "rusty red."

WATER DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS: At the Selectmen's meeting. L to R: Paul Duggan, foreman; Ken Molschman, superintendent; Arnold Blake and Vincent McLean, water commissioners.

As may be expected, this led to a session between the Water Commissioners and the Board of Selectmen, Monday night, a session that lasted 50 minutes. A lot of material that had previously been discussed was talked over again, but this time there was a full board of Selectmen. Previously in such a discussion only George Boylen bothered to attend.

The principal speaker for the Water Department was the chairman of the Board of Water Commissioners, Arnold Blake.

One of the causes of the rust, which has bothered many people along Shawsheen Avenue, along Burlington Avenue, along Aldrich Road and along Forest Street, at this time, is that the Water Department is overhauling the standpipe, on Kelley Hill. Blake told the Selectmen. In effect there is no standpipe, nor has there been any for several weeks. The water pressure is being maintained by the pumps, which can and does cause surges in pressure.

On the mechanical side Blake also listed the fact that there is a six inch pipe for some distance along Shawsheen Avenue, with a 10 inch water main on either end.

A number of the pipes in the Wilmington Water system are getting old, he told the Selectmen.

The causes are complex, he said, and rather difficult to analyze. The water department is working with the firm of Whitman & Howard, trying to find definitely what are the causes, and this is a costly program.

Some of the well fields in Wilmington are bothered by bog iron, he said. Specifically he listed the one off Butters Row, and the one in the Town Park. Bog iron is caused by a bacterial process, involving the use of oxygen, and this gets into old and rusty pipes, and the rust settles there.

The only way the Water Department knows how to alleviate this condition is by flushing the water mains, and this is done at night. There isn't so much trouble, doing it that way.

At the same time the problem is probably being aggravated by the presence of some bacteria in the water from the Chestnut Street station. The State Department of Health says: Chlorinate (the Chestnut Street water) and the chlorine probably adds more oxygen to the water, which gives the rust forming bacteria more to work on.

The Aldrich Road pumping station was shut down, on Tuesday, and the Water Department was flushing the mains on that road, in an effort to get rid of rust. That may have added to the problem of Shawsheen Avenue, the selectmen were told.

"We need constructive criticism," Blake said. He wants complaints from the customers - not emotional ones, but telephone calls that tell the water department where the troubles are.

"Some people say: 'What's the use of calling? We never get action!' - We don't know of the troubles without telephone calls!" Blake also discussed his attitude toward the spending of money.

The money the department spends, he said, is "My Buck." Before he spends money he seeks to justify the expenditure, and then spend it.

Blake emphasized that "I am not the final answer." The Town Meeting, he said, is the Master.

He revealed that the Water Department now has plans for new water mains on Andover Street and Ballardvale Street, and for a connection between the two streets, and connections to Salem Street. It will cost about $500,000. There will probably be an article in the annual Town Meeting.

Selectman George Boylen criticized, saying that the Water Department had too low rates in industrial use. "Very conservative" he said.

Blake's answer was that only three of Wilmington's industries "contribute" to the Water Department. "Perhaps we have been conservative - we have only raised the rates once in thirty years!"

It was, he pointed out, a matter of priorities. The town expects to spend $13 millions on a new school. There are other expenses. The politicians have to decide on priorities.

Wilmington, he warned, is going to run out of water in 10 to 15 years. He didn't know where it was going to come from - but the Water Department has to start "laying plans" right now.

Vin McLain, water commissioner, pointed out that there would be a need for setting priorities - Clean up the Mains - or new Water Treatment Plants.

One item that Selectman Jim Miceli picked up was that there was a charge to the consumers, when the Water Department investigated a complaint, and it turned out that the trouble was something like a rusty hot water heater. The charge was $6.

The selectmen, later that night, voted to discontinue any such charge, and this to include instances in which there were hot water heaters.
